RIPPING HUMOR

Every S'eastern Student.

We're dedicating

Heroes are where you find them.

And heroes are people you don't have to look for. You know they are around without having to search for them, because they are so busy being helpful.

That is how it is with Frank Guyott, our school janitor. And that is why we on the Aryan Staff are glad of our chance to honor Frank (Where's Frank?) Guyott by dedicating this wartime edition of the Aryan to him.

Frank, as our janitor, is well known to all. Frank Guyott, honorable citizen and lifelong resident of Detroit, is relatively unknown. But he shouldn't be. You should know then, that

. . . as we have said, he was born in Detroit and lived here all his life. Not only a native Detroiter, he is a "charter" resident of old Mack Avenue, formerly called Blair street.

At present Frank lives on the West side, at 3164 Brooklyn, near Grand River.

He is married and has two grown children, a son Frank Jr., 38, and a married daughter, Eleanor.

Frank has been at Southeastern for fourteen years, with the Detroit Board of Education one year longer, a year spent "on probation."

Evenings, at home, Frank likes just "to sit around and read the paper, 'News' and 'Free Press.' " Movies bore him: sees not over two or three a year.

Frank doesn't care for candy bars, and for dessert after his brought-from-home lunch he likes best a juicy California orange. For dinner it's good soups and stews.

So there he is, humble of tastes, simple and steady of habit, and solid through and through. Southeastern is lucky to have him.

Yes, we think a great man is one who takes his job seriously and does it well. Frank, as he is known to everyone, has done just that. He has been thorough, conscientious, friendly and helpful to everyone, uniformly and steadily. That is why the Staff feel that the dedication of an Aryan to him is not only richly justified, but perhaps long overdue.

JANUARY CLASS SONG

Words and Music by
Jeanie Darbyshire

We will miss our school, Southeastern,
With its colors of Purple and White.
So we pay our tribute and our thanks
As we join in the world's greatest ranks.

We are leaving now our school books
But we're taking our knowledge along.
We will miss our teachers, counselors, too;
Dear old school we will ne'er forget you.

CHORUS

With voices raised we sing our praise
Of our now ending High School days;
And tho we sigh to say good-bye
We bid farewell, Southeastern High.

JUNE CLASS SONG

Words and Music by
Nelson Vigor

Dear school, we'll miss you more than we can tell;
We'll miss your crowded halls and old school bell;
We'll miss your many games and dances too,
And we'll come back when our task is through.

We finish now our years of preparation
For loyal service in our country's cause.
Here ends now our great quest for a vocation
And valiantly we look toward future days.

CHORUS

So hail to thee, dear school of ours;
We'll praise thee to the sky.
We'll shout thy name both near and far
Alma mater, Southeastern High.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Southeastern's 1943 football season was completed with three victories and three defeats, the last game taken from Eastern with a fourteen point edge on the muddiest field of the season. The Old Oaken Bucket stayed at home.

Returning lettermen were Ray Collins, Dan Kippen, Joe Bozmoski, Wilbur Briggs, Phil McCabe, Dino Markus, Bill Schleicher, and Jack St. Onge. These star gridders gave confidence and strength to the line and backfield.

Did our squad get any breaks? The records report one, Krecke's wrist, broken in the first quarter of the Northwestern game. Other features of the football year were Phil McCabe's being selected player of the year for all round usefulness, and the hard hitting plays of Bill Schleicher, Mike Kaysserian, and Dino Markus in the backfield.

Aiding the Junglemen was a heavy line made up of such notable poundage as Stanley Champion, Wilbur Briggs, Ray Collins, Bill Bell, and Roy Ethier.

We didn't have a whale of a good year, but the games were swell to watch and our team did fight plenty hard.

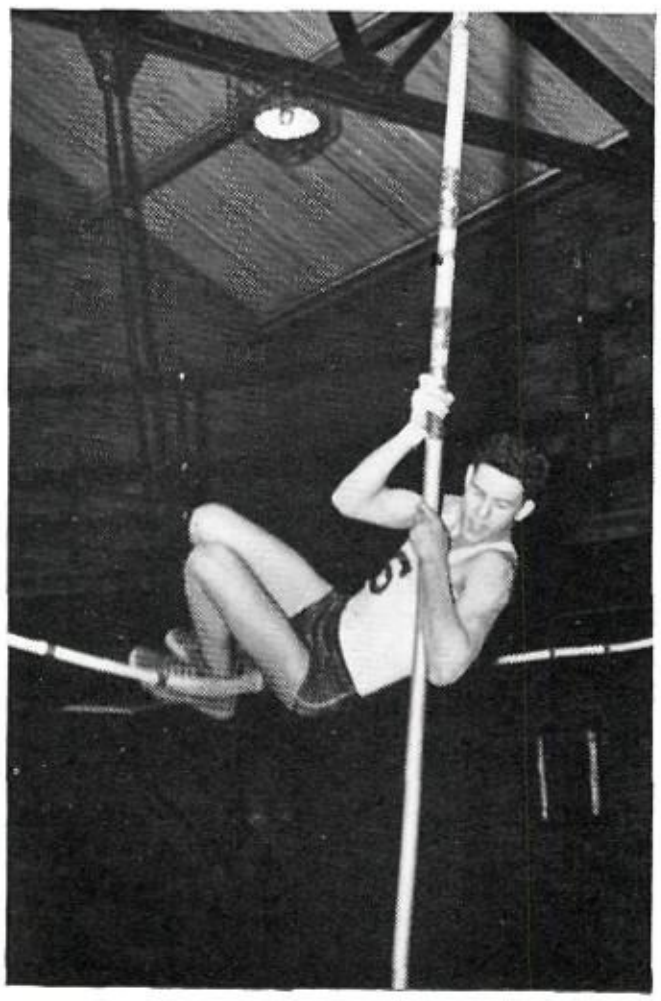
An unusual experience for Jake Young, a little close competition in the hurdles.

Vereecke, Jenkins, and Gillam, loping along with no one else in sight; that's how it was, most of the time.

VARSITY TRACK



Any one looking at this picture would swear that Germain missed; well, he did.

Coach Dierkes' long-winded boys panted their way to the East Side Championship and took third place in the city finals.

Hardest trainer and only returning letterman on the team was Sarkis Deradoorian, who with his teammates Captain Dick Caruso, Dick Gillam, John Brummer, Ernest Baldini, and Dick Rayburn, sent the team to its high spot among the city's track teams.

After taking the first meet from Pershing, Northern, and Northeastern by the low score of 20-37 (lowest score wins), they ran Cass and Denby into the ground. At the last meet the cindermen trounced Cass and Pershing, the score standing at 31, 33, 62.

VARSITY SWIMMING

Second place in the Southeast Championship, and five men on the All-City swim team were the results of the natators efforts this year.

Returning lettermen Bob Williams, captain of the team, Ed Jansen, Charles Klann, and the addition of Allen Campbell, a newcomer, helped much to strengthen the team and boost the final score sheet to 4 wins and 2 losses.

In the first meet Southeastern defeated Northeastern 69 to 11. After falling to Eastern in the second meet they beat out Denby by a mere point. Following this were two victories, one over Northeastern, the other over Eastern. The last meet, which decided the Southeastern championship, was lost to Denby.

House 100 pushes over a touchdown to climax an exciting drive in an intra-mural game with 203.

Doug Willis directs signal practice as 222 goes through its daily drill.

HOUSE FOOTBALL

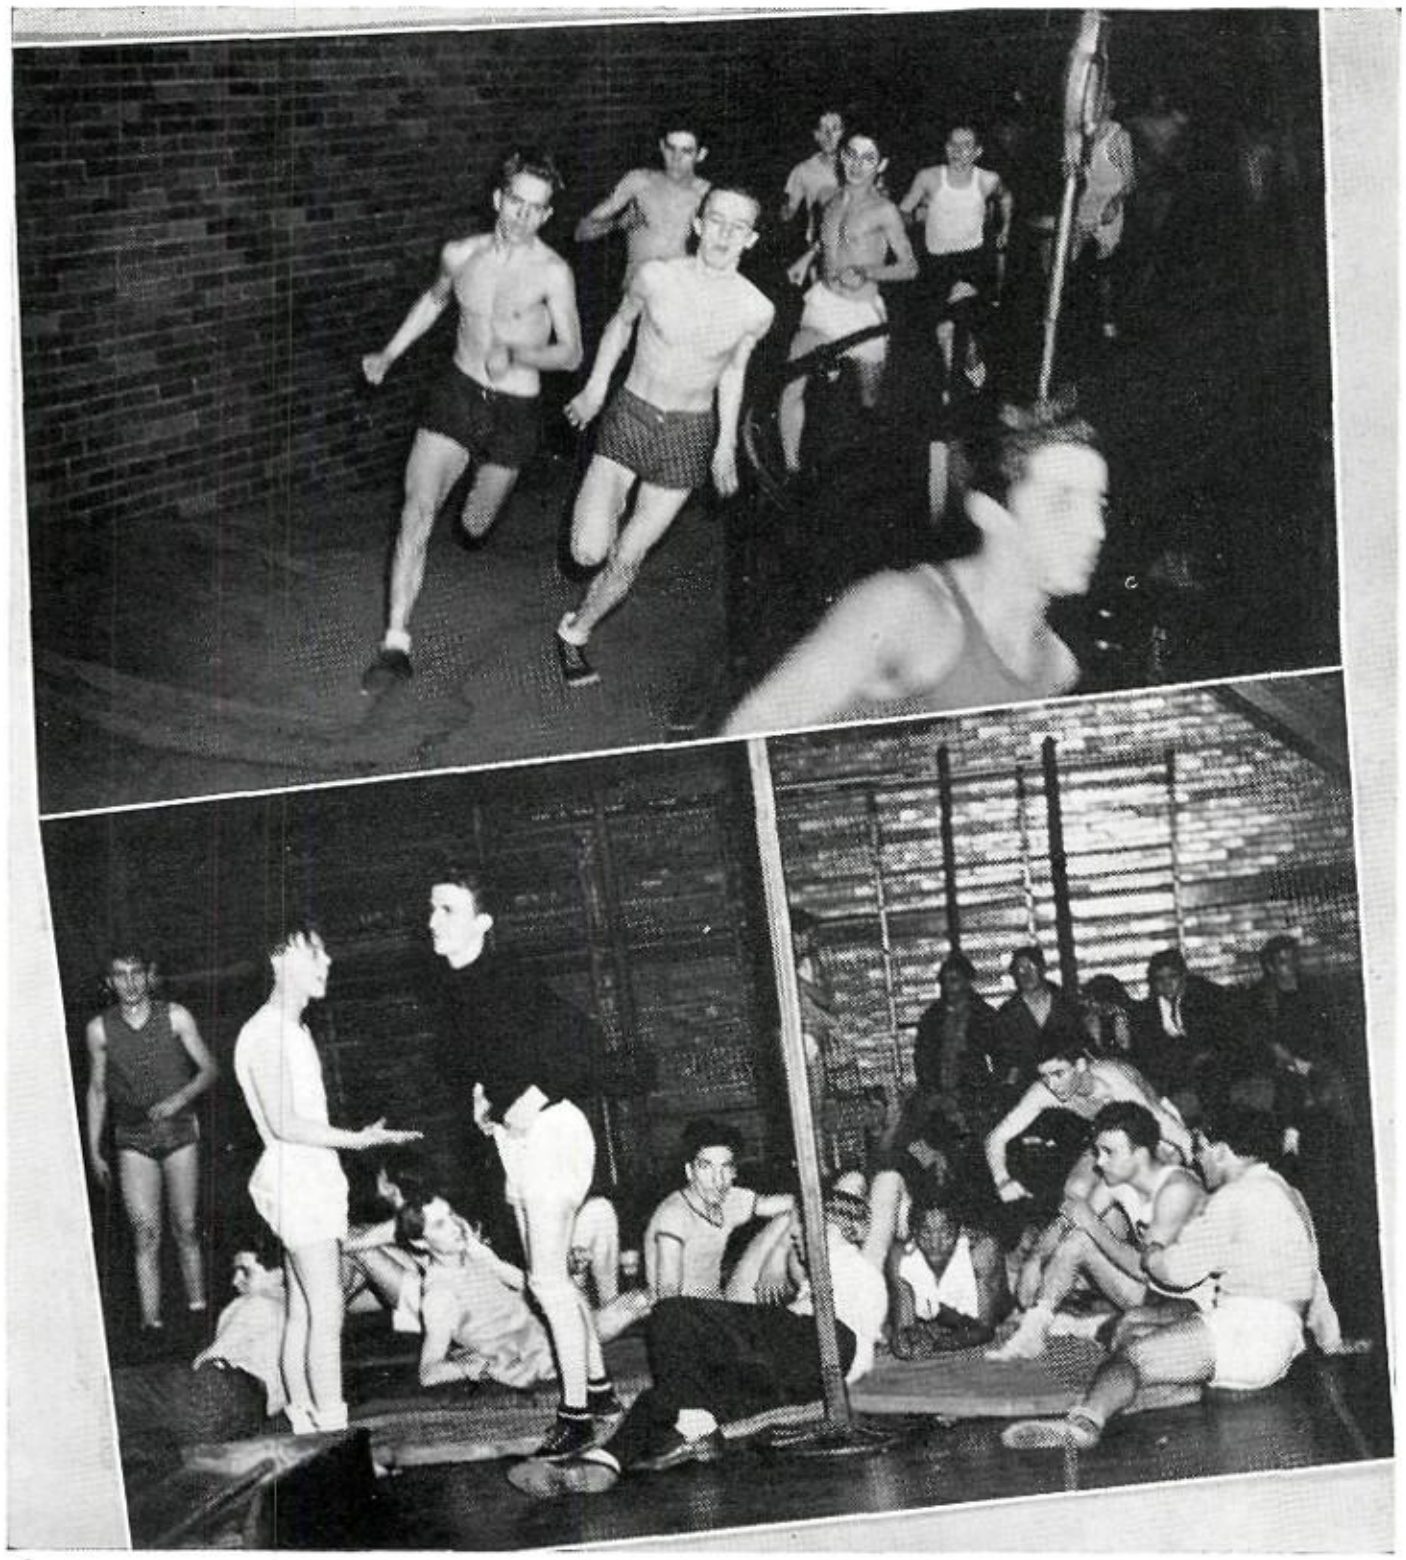
The house football championship game between 203 and 100 ended in a scoreless tie, and the two houses were forced to split the title.

The complete results of the season are listed below:

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
100	2	0	2	.1000
203	3	1	2	.750
222	1	2	1	.333
202	0	3	1	.000

At the end of the season the annual All-House Team was chosen. It was made up of such notable players as: Ray Otaskey, 100, left end: Wayne Sullwold, 222, left tackle: Robert Badertscher 203, left guard: Harold Melton, 100, center: George Govan, 100, right guard: Ken Colombo, 203, right tackle: Dick Lamy, 202, right end: Dick Polaski, 222, quarterback: Frank Blair, the hard hitting halfback from 203: Frank Kliebert, 100's well known running star: Bill Carroll, 100, whose running and passing cinched him for the All-House team.

Interest in House Football and all other house sports has greatly increased. This is evidenced by the large number of boys trying out for the various house teams. Such interests are good signs: for they show an increase in school spirit, and prepare the lower-classmen for reserve and varsity teams.



HOUSE TRACK

First place in the grueling two-mile run was taken by Willard Vereecke of House 222, but his first place was not enough to offset the attack made by House 100's team, who walked (or ran) off with the title.

The Lincolnites composing this winning team were: Dick Caruso, John Brummer, Bob Conibear, Archie Farquhar, and Frank Vereecke. Most of this team went directly to the Varsity squad.

It was House 100's first track banner, and was taken from 203's runner-up team by a mere 4 point margin.

The annual indoor house track meet was taken by house 203. The Argonauts edged out the 222 Bulldogs by a mere 2 1-7 point margin.

RESERVE FOOTBALL

Champs! is the word to use when speaking of the reserve football team. The defeat of Redford High on November 26 by the glorious score of 26-0 put the City Title in the hands of Perry's boys.

S. E.	Opponent
0	D. U. S.	7
19	U. of D.	0
32	Northeastern	0
19	Pershing	6
20	Denby	0
25	Hamtramck	0
19	Catholic Central	6
19	Eastern	0
26	Redford	0

Combining Sam Adams' blocking; Ronald Jenkins' running; Rodney Burtons' tearing holes through center, and a good, hard fighting team—how could we lose?

Brilliant plays and lots of cooperation were the basis of the team's success, and with a starting eleven composed of Don Shumaker, Fred Meeh, Anthony Tucci, Harold Knight, Bill Lents, Dick Webb, Bob Howard, and Phil Strek (punter extraordinary) is it any wonder that the final tally showed 8 victories and one defeat (lost to D. U. S., and was not a scheduled game).

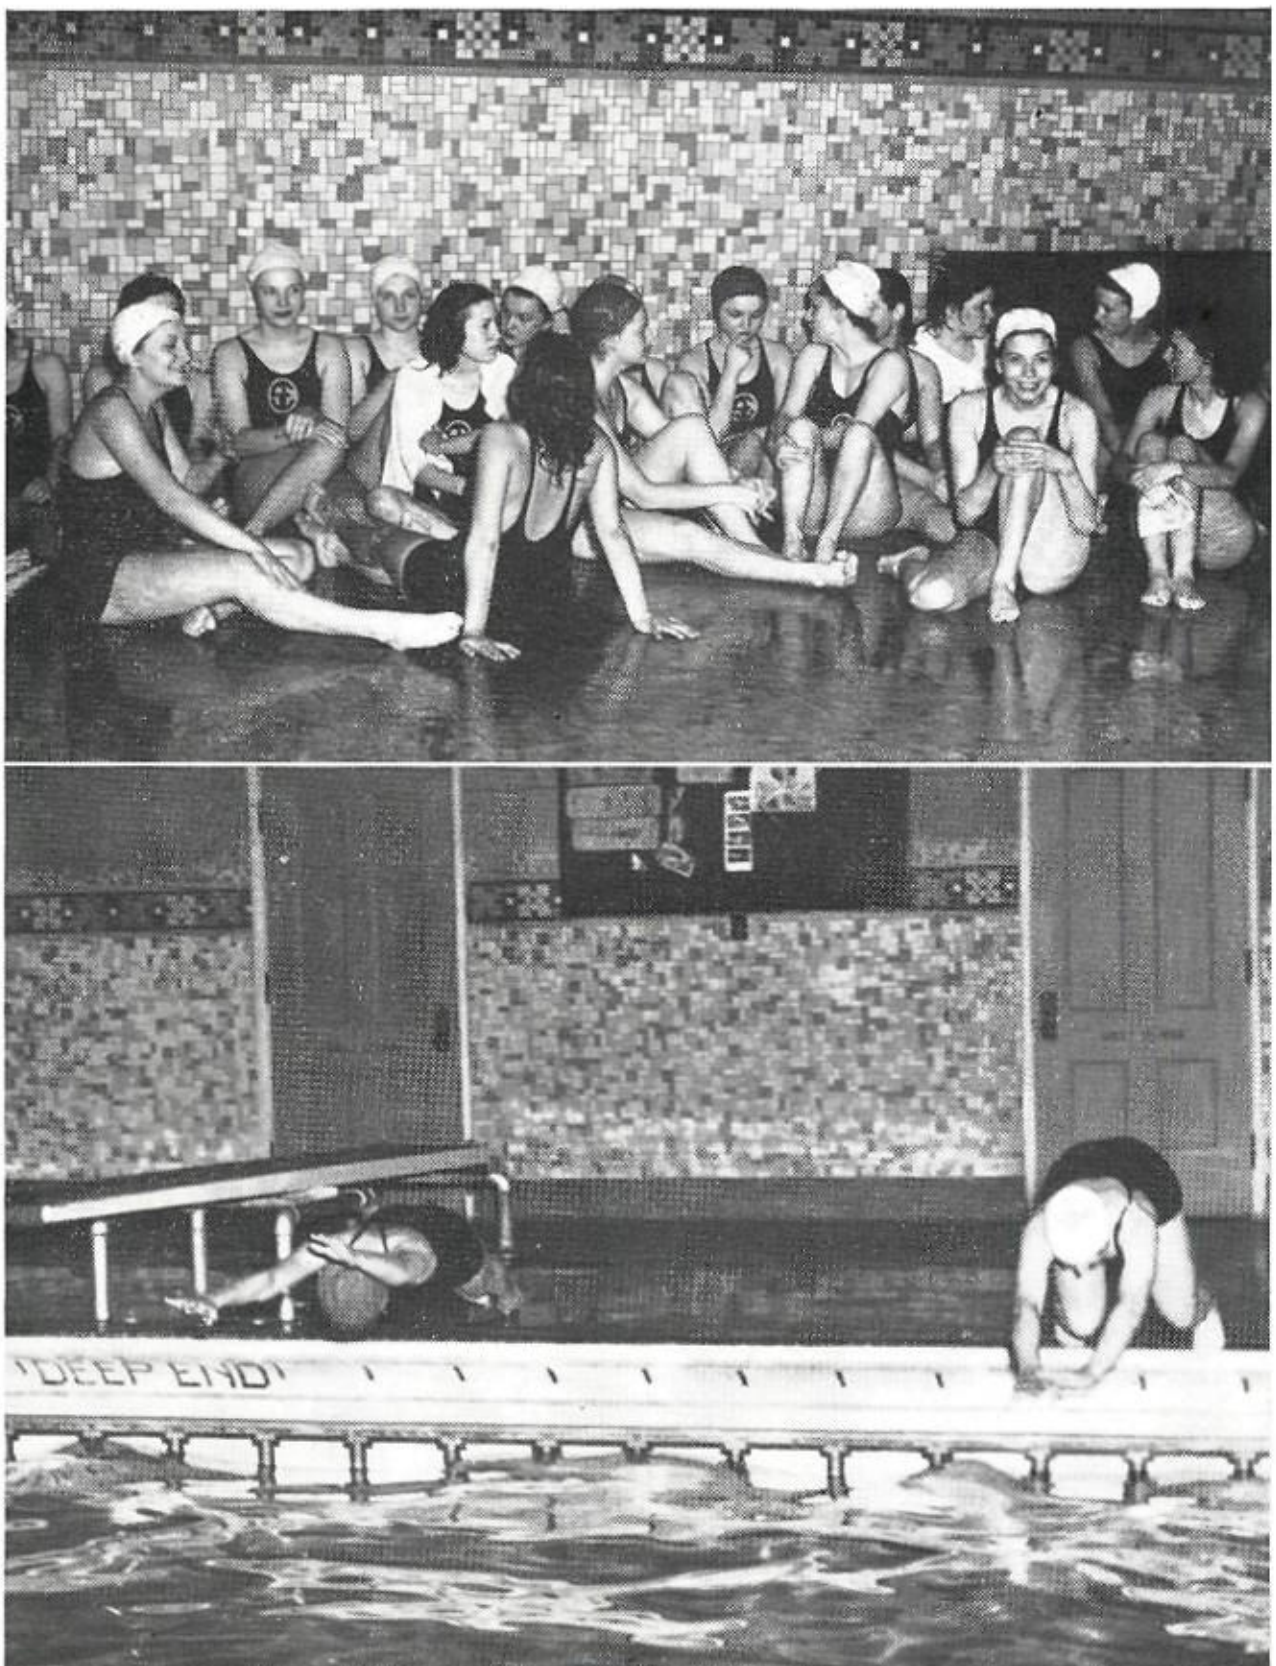
GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The large turnout for basketball this year indicates a rising interest in the sport.

The first team and substitutes were chosen from a larger number of girls this year than in previous years. The first team was made up of: forwards, Glenda Locke, captain-elect; Jaiana Saylon and Nancy Dilloway: guards, Alice Kretschmer, Pat Kavanaugh, and Rose Pickovich, while Mary Corder, Jeanne Metting, and Arla Fair are frequently used for substitutions.

Snappy plays and good cooperation helped the team along immensely.

Taking the first game from Annunciation, 30-8, they became too confident and tied Northeastern 26-26 in the second. The third game was lost to Denby (the girls have Denby trouble too), and was the first time they had done so. At the end of the game the score read 27-23.



GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

The club-swinging gals had a very unsuccessful season this year. They lost each tilt to Denby, Northeastern, and Miller respectively.

Even the guidance of Coach Waier; the captaincy of Dora Scott, who played with all the zeal and sportsmanship that a captain should, and the return of Connie Jones, Loralie Fritz, Mary Ann McCarthy, Kay Powell, Anita Salmasian, Betty Borlase, and speedy Alice Kretschmer, though extremely helpful, could not contend with the strong teams of their opponents.

FACULTY AT WAR

Mr. Ballmer came to Southeastern in 1935. While here he was the conductor of our band and orchestra. He also gave instrumental instruction. Now he is a Lieut. Col. in the Army and when last heard from was stationed at Camp Campbell, Kentucky.

Mr. Rea started teaching at S. E. in 1930. Later when Southeastern's large enrollment called for another House, Mr. Rea was made Principal of House 100. He is now a lieutenant (j. g.) in the Navy.

Mr. Gornbein began teaching at Southeastern in 1936. He taught in the Social Science Department and was well known for his stimulating history classes. Now he is in the Navy and is a Communications Officer on convoy duty in the Atlantic.

Mr. Nester began his fine career at Southeastern in 1930. At the time, an acute shortage of auto-shop teachers claimed his services "below stairs". In time, however, Mr. Nester was transferred to his proper department, Social Science. During this entire period, however, he also contributed his superior abilities to the Health Ed. department, coaching Football, Baseball, and Reserve Basketball. He is now a lieutenant (j. g.) in the U. S. Navy.

Miss McCully also got in a good stint of teaching at Southeastern before she left to join the Waves, having arrived here in 1934. At S. E. she taught in the Commercial Department. She is now stationed in Washington, D. C.

Miss Vanden Bossche came to Southeastern in 1930. For thirteen years she taught in the Commercial Department. Now with the Marines in North Carolina, her main job is Executive Officer for the Women's Reserve Squadron.

Miss Maul came to Southeastern in 1942, and in 1943 she left to join the Spars. While at S. E. she taught in the Commercial Department and was a sponsor of the Girl Reserves. She is stationed in Washington, D. C.

Senior Election

identify

A flock of upsets tumbled pell-mell ~~into~~ the voting mill, knocking the pre-election dope of Senior Officers into a cocked hat. Once again it was a private field-day for old Homeroom 110 of Jackson Intermediate.

Cilia, Hicks, Dietrich and Donaldson came through a tough election with flying colors. Numerous crestfallen backers of losing candidates expressed great surprise at the outcome of the balloting; the quick reply, however, of their opponents was brief and clever; "the majority of 450 Seniors can't be wrong." The election this semester was highlighted by unusually clever campaign slogans. It was generally conceded by both camps that for instance Range had a dilly of a catch-line in: "Don't be a Ubangi; Vote for Range!"

STAFF

You are now reading in your 1944 edition of the Aryan. No use asking you to imagine what it took to bring it to completion; the thrills of anticipation, the countless experiences of fun, of grief, of worry and of drudgery. Unless one worked on the Staff these things must remain unimaginable.

It is important to know, however, that this book, like every school annual, is first and last a souvenir. It is a thing to help one retain, for eternal safekeeping, memories of all those things that make up his cherished high-school life. It omits the freakish and spectacular; it includes the familiar, the usual.

Keep this in mind as you examine the pages of this book, and try to anticipate their value to you in years to come.

The Editor.

Miss Anderson retires

Dear Faculty, Alumni, and Pupils of Southeastern:

At the close of this school year and the completion of my work here at Southeastern, I have been asked to write a few words of farewell to you. Words of parting are always difficult to say, especially after the close association I have had with so many of you throughout the years.

You of the faculty have seen Southeastern grow from a small six-year high school to one of the outstanding educational institutions of our city. You and I have lived our school lives together, through sunshine and shadow, and I leave you with happy memories of your loyal friendship and cooperation.

Southeastern has attained its high scholastic record here in Detroit because of the achievements and ideals of its alumni. It has been my good fortune to see all our graduating classes pass from our portals, to know their love for Southeastern, and the splendid contributions they are making to the arts, the sciences, and the professions. However widely scattered we may be, dear Alumni, and though many years may have passed since we met, we will always be united in spirit and in our memories of Southeastern.

And to you, our under-graduates, who must now take up the responsibilities and duties bequeathed to you by the latest alumni, the Class of June 1944, I also must bid farewell. Yours is no easy task: to maintain the high standards and ideals of Southeastern's past and to gain new laurels for her in the future. That you can and will do this, I am certain. I am deeply appreciative of your courtesy and your friendly spirit and I close with heartfelt good wishes for the success of all of you.

Sincerely your friend,

Flora L. Anderson

We'll Surely Miss . . .

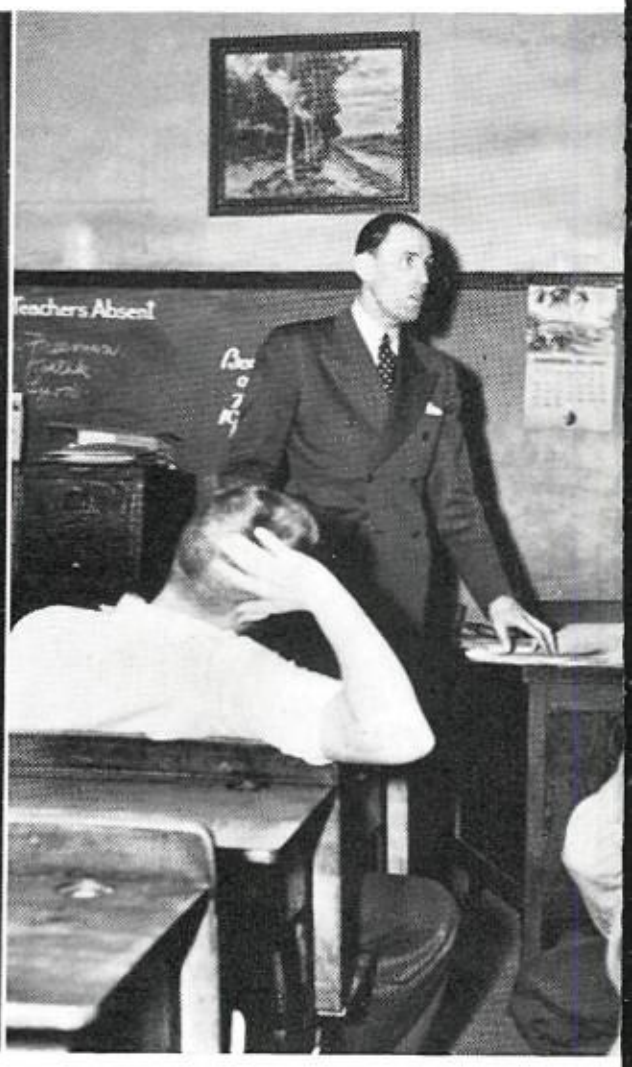
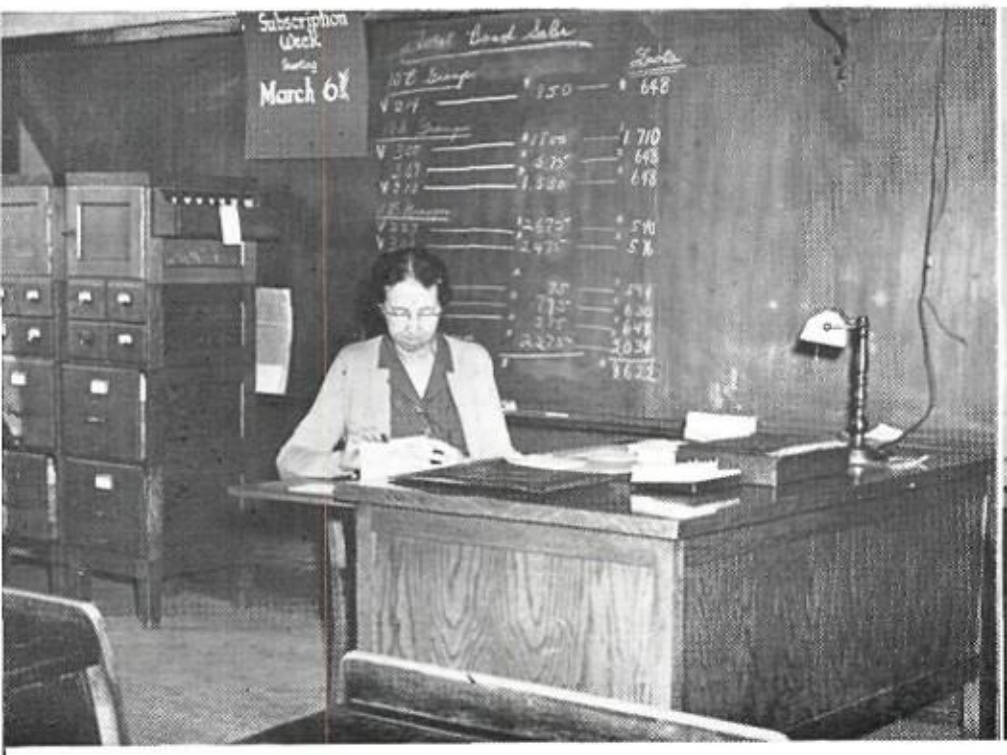
Each Day In Our House

"All right," says Mr. Boyd as he bangs on the table with his gavel. "Quiet, now! I have a few announcements to read." Is any daily doing in House 100 more familiar? Mr. Boyd thought the house officers should have more authority; the results (?) can be seen in the background.

Mr. Diekoff's struggles and sometimes "c mor-plate" words which he had to us before he managed to quiet down his boy enough to enable them to hear the dai group of announcements. Of course th fellows never managed to get much of th information.





The most familiar sight seen in House 303: Miss Phelps, seated at her desk, taking care of her daily routine of business and at the same time keeping an eagle eye on those few noisy girls.

The daily line-up of girls greeting Miss Mac Farlane almost every morning as she dashed up to House 323. Then she would sit at her desk and proceed to write out absence excuses by the pound.

"I'm not here to keep you quiet. I'm here to do other work. The next bub that makes any noise I'll send home!" says Mr. Cammett when he stands with his hands on his hips and yells at his boys to keep quiet. His powerful voice brings results too.

Mr. Moffat turning to his house record and saying, "Okay, fellows; now we don't want another show like we had the last time, but let's sing a few songs." Then he would seat himself at the piano and play "Anchors Aweigh" while the boys lustily (and I do mean lustily) sang.

The house secretaries calling Miss Crow into the little office in House 223 to answer the telephone. A few seconds later, the following intelligent (?) conversation could be heard throughout the house: "Hello, no . . yes . . no . . no . . indeed . . all right."

THE FOURTEENTH ANNUAL

Christmas Concert

'Twas a cold night last December 17 with snow and sleet for all us humans. But undaunted, loyal Southeasternites crowded the auditorium to await the beginning of Southeastern's annual Christmas Concert.

At 8:15 the choir's opening number from the gallery brought hushed attention to the group and the anticipated evening had begun.

Myron Koppin, new to some of us, highlighted the evening with a beautiful arrangement of "O Lord Most Holy," while the combined choruses brought the evening to an end with a special arrangement of Fred Waring's "Onward Christian Soldiers."

It was one evening well spent! Thanks so much, Mrs. Ridley, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Douglass, and Mr. Emmer, we enjoyed it.

Something new; yes indeed! Southeastern took a new stand on foreign relations at the Spring Concert, the evening of April 28.

This year the Concert was built entirely around a new theme, "Music of the Allied Nations."

The "Russian Sailor's Dance" lent itself in contrast to our own "Cindy" and "Homing", giving us an evening of variety and pleasure.

This year Southeastern really did a real "bit" toward world brotherhood! It was a fine idea, beautifully carried out.

LET'S DANCE

With Leap Year offering special excuses, Southeastern's social life really blossomed out . . .

Always a success, the Girl and "Boy" Reserves really put over the Harvest Hop to get the fall semester under way . . . such swell trimmings! . . . While sponsors sat around and counted cash (um-m).

Continuing a growing tradition, the freshies again made their own splash with the Minnow's Mixup . . . after a swell mixer the shy frosh got in the party mood and although most of the gang arrived stag, they . . . but that's another story! Of course the usual seniors haunted the balcony—pushing and shoving for a bird's eye view . . . while the frosh danced on and on.

Seniors, shining their candle from under that bushel, came out in a blaze of glory with the Autumn Soiree . . . not overlooking our feathered friends either, even tho' Rodney Burton, proud winner of the turkey, failed to invite the gang over for a Thanksgiving feast! . . . but we lived (pretty good hot dogs, too).

Maybees played host to Seniors on January 14, at Senior-Maybee reception . . . Larry Easterday supplying music, while Maybees supplied refreshments in cafeteria later . . . Chuck Krecke keeps a mean eye open for secondcomers (rationing, you know; but still unfair to organized Maybees).

Big doin's on eve of January 26, at Fountain Room . . . that's right, the Prom . . . semi-formal, with Russ Armstrong to handle the rhythm . . . because of scarcity (?) of material, the girls went glamorized (um-m-m) . . . The end of a big day saw us happily on our way with date and tattered prom book . . . bound for p'ok chops out Cupid-way.

March 17 ushered in another "wearin' o' the green" as Seniors gave out with Senior Shamrock! . . . Biggest financial success of year, seniors sat around gloating over profits . . . only to do some mighty fine dancin' later . . . who says Seniors can't get there fustest with the mostest . . . And please congratulate Mr. Moffat's ye olde Barber Shop (?) quartet: have we got talent? I ask you!

As usual, the Senior Plays for the year were under the direction of Mrs. Winifred Hinckley, and they both added much to her already considerable fame. Musical decorations for the play evenings were furnished by the Southeastern String Ensemble, directed by Mr. Samuel Emmer. Miss Clementine Friola supervised the stage sets.
